

NOWADAYS

- 4 Zimbabwe
Criticism via Twitter
- 4 Burundi
Journalist in exile
- 5 Imprint

WOMEN, MEN, MARRIAGES

Families are an eternal institution – human life is hard to imagine without them. Institutions change over time, however. Cultures differ in regard to rules about who can marry whom and what rights go along with what duties. The quality of people's lives depends on conventions meeting society's needs. All too often, that is not the case.

- 8 EDITH KOESOEMAWIRIA
Indonesian divorce numbers are rising
- 9 NILANJANA RAY
In Hyderabad, a "sheikh marriage" only lasts a few weeks
- 11 MARTINA SABRA
Arranged marriages in the Middle East and North Africa
- 13 PHILIP THON ALEU AND PARACH MACH
Suffering caused by the bride-price tradition in South Sudan
- 15 ANGELINA DIESCH AND-MOSES NTENGA
Early marriages affect many young Ugandan girls
- 16 GLORIA LAKER ACIRO
Widows are among Uganda's most disadvantaged people
- 18 SONWABISO NGCOWA
In South Africa, too many children grow up without fathers
- 20 HEDWIG DIEKWISCH
People need competent advice on contraceptives
- 22 SEBASTIÁN VARGAS
In Argentina, homosexual people can marry
- 24 RITA SCHÄFER
Relevant reading on gender relations in Africa

THE GARBAGE CHALLENGE

It is impossible to simply throw waste away. It always ends up somewhere – and there simply is not enough space for landfills. Moreover, garbage contains valuable resources that must not be wasted. Some of them are needed long term. Waste management must therefore take a holistic approach. Disposal is only one of many aspects.

- 28 ROSHAN SHARMA
Kathmandu needs up-to-date waste management
- 30 OLIVER MÖLLENSTÄDT
Recycling project in Mumbai involves local waste pickers
- 31 INTERVIEW WITH BILIKISS ADEBIYI-ABIOLA
Wecyclers are making a difference in Lagos
- 32 JOCHEN MONINGER AND RAPHAEL THURN-VALSASSINA
Thanks to its waste management, Bo has become Sierra Leone's cleanest city
- 34 REGINA BRÜCK, HERMANN-JOSEF OSTLENDER, MONA PLATE AND GABRIELE SCHÜTZ-LEMBACH
Twin cities Aachen and Cape Town cooperate on achieving for sustainability
- 36 INTERVIEW WITH RUEDIGER KUEHR
How to deal with e-waste
- 38 MONA NAGGAR
Syrian refugees and Lebanese people tackle garbage together
- 39 ANDREAS HAUSER
International standards for waste-water treatment
- 42 FLOREANA MIESEN AND HANS DEMBOWSKI
Relevant reading on cities, waste, development and plastics